

Trees for Health

The headline in the Globe and Mail article reads, "Extreme heat should be considered a natural disaster: report".

It is hard for me to think of high temperatures and searing sunshine right now, as I write this our evening temperatures are reliably (and stubbornly) dipping below zero Celsius. I would give a basket of fresh, home-grown tomatoes for some heat right now. Read more.

Latest Updates

TD READY COMMITMENT

Trees for Life Welcomes Back TD Bank Group in 2023

Trees for Life is thrilled that TD Bank Group (TD) is providing a renewed commitment in 2023 to support the expansion of our national impact and to plant trees in honour of healthcare heroes. TD was the founding corporate sponsor of the Highway of Heroes Tree Campaign and we're honoured that they are supporting the next chapter of our story. Read more

Your Impact: Check Out Our 2022 Year In Review

Thanks to you we were able to plant more trees where we live, work and play. To learn more about how you have helped us grow our impact, please read our year in review. Read more.

From All of Us at Trees for Life, Thank You!

Here is a message from our co-Founder and volunteer Board Chair, Mark Cullen. To watch the video, click here.

Seedling Science Success

Trees for Life is grateful for the deep connections it shares with the nursery landscape trades associations across the country because the projects we support benefit from these relationships. A great example of this is the work that the Vineland Research Station in southwestern Ontario is doing to provide science-based ways to help urban plantings and communities flourish. Read the full article here.

Roots, Shoots & Branches

Get To Know Your Natives by Nature

Some interesting facts you may not know about the Butternut tree, a species at risk of disappearing in Ontario. Read more.

In support of the Trees for Heroes campaign, we will be featuring all types of heroes who make our country and communities great places to live, work and play. Today the spotlight shines on Jalynn Bosley

Hall of Heroes Spotlight: Jalynn Bosley

When Jalynn Bosley was asked what she wanted for her 50th birthday, she said there was really nothing she wanted or needed. She suggested to her family that they plant a tree or get a few juicy Minneolas and some good granola. Simple joys. Her sister thought otherwise. Read more.

We are grateful to those who have shared the stories of their heroes and loved ones. To share a story for publication, contact us today.

Sponsors & Partners of Trees for Life

Follow Trees for Life on social media!

